A new writing group for autistic people

Read about Jackie and how she had help to set up a new writing group.

We helped set up a new writing group

Diverse UK had a popular writing group for autistic people, but it was full.

SENDaWelcome wanted to help start a new group. We needed someone to run the group who's autistic.

Jackie volunteered to run the group but was worried about the admin at first

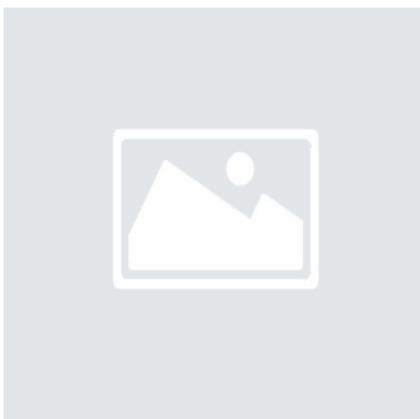

SENDaWelcome helped to contact people on the waiting list, book a room, and set up an email for Jackie

The new group is now a place for creativity and relaxation.

Jackie encourages others to start their own groups as anyone can do it.
