

We build connections | We empower change | We raise awareness

We offer inclusive events in our local area where everyone is welcome.

We hold events for our stakeholders to come together and make connections.

We provide workshops to inform and shift perspectives.

We share examples of good practice through storytelling on our website, social media and local media.

We give a platform to people with lived experience to make change..

We share inclusive resources with local organisations.

We offer organisations the opportunity to consult with experts by experience.

We attend networking events to keep people with learning disabilities on the agenda.

We contribute to academic papers and provide feedback into policy and procedure development.

We make connections with local councillors, Bristol City Council and the NHS. With our partnerships, our impact is greater.
